events@hlbwa.com.au

At this breakfast event, HLB Mann Judd's IT Manager Matt Rowston will provide an update on the cyber security landscape for small businesses in 2025, unpacking the key issues with clear, actionable solutions.

Maintaining the security of your company's people and data is essential, yet it's often overlooked amid the day-to-day demands of running a business, and only becoming a priority when a crisis arises.

Matt will examine the current risks, emerging threats, and practical strategies to mitigate risks. Cyber security today is complex, but Matt will simplify the key issues and provide insights in a straightforward way. Topics of discussion include:

- AI and its implications for security
- Managing your digital footprint
- Implementing effective protection processes

This non-technical presentation is designed to be accessible, offering attendees valuable tips and guidelines to navigate and thrive in the evolving cyber security landscape.
